

The Comma

When Using Quotation Marks

Commas are often required with quotations either at the beginning or the end.

Put the commas into the sentence where they belong:

- 1) "I love you" said the boy to his dog.
- 2) "I'm so sorry" said the girl after she tripped and fell.
- 3) "Please help me" said the lost child.
- 4) "Thank you" said the old man after the young boy helped him carry his groceries.
- 5) "You're welcome" said the young boy.
- 6) "That's a great idea" said the teacher after the student suggested a new way to learn a math concept.
- 7) "I don't know" said the student when the teacher asked him a question.
- 8) "I'm sure you do" said the teacher.
- 9) "I'm scared" said the boy before he went on stage to perform in a play.
- 10) "You'll do great" said his mom.
- 11) "I don't like this" said the girl after she got a shot at the doctor's office.
- 12) "I know" said the doctor. "But it's important."
- 13) "I'm bored" said the boy after he had finished his homework.
- 14) "Why don't you go outside now" suggested his mom.
- 15) "Okay" said the boy.
