

The Comma Separating two Independent Clauses

In each of these sentences, the comma is used to separate two independent clauses. An independent clause is a group of words that can stand on its own as a complete sentence. When two independent clauses are joined together, they must be separated by a comma.

Put the commas into the sentence where they belong:

- 1) I went to the beach and I found some shells.
- 2) I like to read books and I also like to watch movies.
- 3) I am going to the park but I will be back soon.
- 4) I am tired but I still have to finish my homework.
- 5) I am going to the beach and I am going to swim in the ocean.
- 6) I am going to the park and I am going to play on the swings.
- 7) I am going to the mall and I am going to buy a new dress.
- 8) I am going to the library and I am going to check out a book.
- 9) I am going to the movies and I am going to see a new movie.
- 10) I am going to the concert and I am going to hear my favorite band.
- 11) I am going to the play and I am going to see my favorite actor.
- 12) I am going to the museum and I am going to see my favorite painting.
- 13) I am going to the zoo and I am going to see my favorite animal.
- 14) I am going to the amusement park and I am going to ride the roller coaster.
- 15) I am going to the water park, and I am going to swim in the wave pool.
