

Would you rather visit the North Pole and meet Santa Claus or travel around the world to see how different countries celebrate Christmas?

