Name:

Attention Getter Introductions

The best types of narrative introductions are those that grab the audience's attention. The attention getting techniques often include startling, unique, interesting, fascinating or surprising information.

Examples:

"Man wins lottery and startles everyone by handing over his winnings to you, a complete stranger to him."

"Exciting new pet! It was revealed today that a scientist successfully created a new pet that is sure to please most cat and dog lovers. This pet is a true cross between a cat and a dog . There is a contest to determine a name for this new pet."

How many attention getting introductions can you create?

©https://worksheetplace.com