

Place The Comma

Put the commas into the sentence where they belong:

1. To please her mother Maria dusted all of the furniture mirrors ornaments and picture frames.
2. Quickly and quietly the baby fell back to sleep.
3. After the party was over my mom knew we were up to something but I'm certain she was really surprised.
4. Although my friend is now 59 years old she claims to be 49.
5. We drove from Houston to New Orleans in one day.
6. It was Coach Tom who came up with the idea of recruiting players from other schools.
7. When returning items that don't fit please remember to return them within 20 days of your purchase.
8. My teacher who was talking to all of us said "If everyone passes this test we'll all get a free period."
9. "I didn't see the falling star" Jane said "but I sure wish I had."
10. Melissa bought a new graduation dress and she wore it to the graduation ceremony.

Answers:

1. To please her mother, Maria dusted all of the furniture, mirrors, ornaments, and picture frames.
2. Quickly and quietly, the baby fell back to sleep.
3. After the party was over, my mom knew we were up to something, but I'm certain she was really surprised.
4. Although my friend is now 59 years old, she claims to be 49.
5. We drove from Houston to New Orleans in one day.
6. It was Coach Tom who came up with the idea of recruiting players from other schools.
7. When returning items that don't fit, please remember to return them within 20 days of your purchase.
8. My teacher, who was talking to all of us, said, "If everyone passes this test, we'll all get a free period."
9. "I didn't see the falling star," Jane said, "but I sure wish I had."
10. Melissa bought a new graduation dress, and she wore it to the graduation ceremony.