

I Have Who Has Game

Cut the cards out and provide each student with a card, one person starts the game by reading their card. Each student has to listen to hear the clue that may be the answer on their card and then respond until the circle is complete. (If you have extra cards, give 2 to some students.)

I have the respiratory system.

Who has the organ responsible for keeping blood moving?

I have the heart.

Who has the location of where the digestive system starts?

I have the mouth.

Who has the organ where urine is made?

I have the kidneys.

Who has the name for brain cells?

I have neurons.

Who has the system that gives the body shape?

I have the skeletal system.

Who has the system that performs all of the body's movements.

I have the muscular system.

Who has the system responsible for eliminating liquid waste?

I have the excretory system.

Who has the most organ that is like a communication center?

I have the brain.

Who has the organ responsible for absorption of nutrients?

I have the small intestine.

Who has where blood is made?

I have bone marrow.

Who has the place where two or more bones come together?

I have joints.

Who has what holds the bones in place?

I have ligaments.

Who has where the body gets energy from?

I have food.

Who has the waste that the lungs exhale?

I have carbon dioxide.

Who has the long tube that brings the food from the mouth to the stomach?

I have the esophagus.

Who has the organ that stores urine?

I have the bladder.

Who has the blood vessel that transports blood away from the heart.

I have arteries.

Who has the blood vessels that transport blood back to heart?

I have veins.

Who has the type of blood cells that provide the body with oxygen.

I have red blood cells.

Who has the type of cells that fight infection and disease?

I have white blood cells.

Who has the organs responsible for inhaling and exhaling?

I have the lungs.

Who has the muscle that helps the body breathe?

Last:

I have the diaphragm.

Who has the system responsible for providing oxygen to the body?

I have the respiratory system.

Who has the organ responsible for keeping blood moving?

I have the heart.

Who has the location of where the digestive system starts?

I have the mouth.

Who has the organ where urine is made?

I have the kidneys.

Who has the name for the brain cells?

I have neurons.

Who has the system that gives the body shape?

I have the skeletal system.

Who has the system that performs all the body's movements?

I have the muscular system.

Who has the system responsible for eliminating liquid waste?

I have the excretory system.

Who has the most organ that is like a communication centre?

I have the brain.

Who has the organ responsible for absorption of nutrients?

I have the small intestine.

Who has where blood is made?

I have bone marrow.

Who has the place where two or more bones come together?

I have joints.

Who has what holds the bones in place?

I have ligaments.

Who has where the body gets energy from?

I have food.

Who has the waste that the lungs exhale?

I have carbon dioxide.

Who has the long tube that brings the food from the mouth to the stomach?

I have the esophagus.

Who has the organ that stores urine?

I have the bladder.

Who has the blood vessel that transports blood away from the heart?

I have the arteries.

Who has the blood vessels that transport blood back to the heart?

I have veins.

Who has the type of blood cells that provide the body with oxygen?

I have red blood cells.

Who has the type of cells that fight infection and disease?

I have white blood cells.

Who has organs responsible for inhaling and exhaling?

I have the lungs.

Who has the muscle that helps the body breathe?

I have the diaphragm.

Who has the system responsible for providing oxygen to the body?

Empty rectangular box for response.

Empty rectangular box for response.

Empty rectangular box for response.

Empty rectangular box for response.

Empty rectangular box for response.

Empty rectangular box for response.

Empty rectangular box for response.