

Earth's Hydrosphere

- Earth's hydrosphere is made up of all the water on Earth.
- Oceans, rivers, lakes, and streams, clouds, rain, snow, groundwater that is found deep underground.
- The hydrosphere also includes all the water that is frozen in glaciers, ice caps, and the polar ice caps.
- All of this water is constantly moving around the Earth in a continuous cycle known as the water cycle.