

Opinion/Argumentative Example:

In my opinion, recess should be longer at school. I believe this because when we have more time to play outside, it gives us a chance to get fresh air and exercise. We can run, jump, and play games with our friends, which is good for our bodies and helps us feel more awake and ready to learn. With longer recess, we could also have more time to finish our healthy snacks and chat with our friends. It's a time when we can relax and take a break from our schoolwork, and I think it's important to have enough time for that. So, I really think that having a longer recess is a great idea because it's good for our health and it makes school more fun. That's why I believe recess should be longer.

This paragraph demonstrates a topic/introductory sentence with a clear opinion ("recess should be longer at school"), provides a reason for the opinion ("more time to play outside"), and includes supporting details (fresh air, exercise, time for snacks and friends). It also restates the opinion at the end, summarizing the writer's point of view. This is a concise but well-structured example of grade 3 opinion writing.
