

Resource Management

The government looks after resources for us. For instance, land for parks, lakes, rivers for water, land for schools, forest for the animals and for recreations.

What would happen if the forest was used to build houses?

What would happen if the park was used to put buildings on instead?

Why is it important for government to look after our forests, parks and lakes?